

LOS ANGELES UNIFIED SCHOOL DISTRICT

SCHOLARSHIP ALERT

Minority & Female Students

Mark Robbins, Dean of Syracuse University's School of Architecture, is desperately seeking young men and women of color interested in pursuing a five-year professional degree in Architecture. He is committed to bringing diversity to his field and has scholarship money set aside to fully cover education costs for 10 students. He says that Latino enrollment in the school has increased substantially, but it's harder to attract African American students.

Syracuse University's School of Architecture has a great reputation and this is a tremendous opportunity, so please contact: Mark Robbins, Dean School of Architecture, at 315 443- 2255 robbinsm@syr.edu, if you are interested.

African American High School Juniors Interested in Engineering

This is an opportunity for 11th grade students to attend a FREE engineering camp at the University of Houston from June 3 - 15, 2007.

African-American student participation is needed. Please complete the application and mail it to the address listed on the brochure. If you need further information please contact John Matthews at 713-743-4226.

Students who participate in this camp have been known to gain summer jobs. This camp helps students to develop good study habits and learn about engineering careers. The deadline is April 15, 2007. Students are encouraged to apply from anywhere in the United States.

Transportation is not provided. However, the camp is free. As a courtesy, staff members will pick up and return out of town students to the bus station, train station or airport for free.
